Miss Rose Riley, student nurse in the Research Hospital, Kansas City, is home on a two weeks' vacation.

Cards have been received from C. L. Wilson, Jr., and Thomas Holleron, Jr., that they have arrived safely over seas.

Miss Bertha Harris went to Kansas City Monday for a visit.

In a recent article given to the public, Mr. Hamlin puts forward the argument that he should not be forced, at this time, to spend money making a canvass, but should hold over, so that he would have more money to give to the Red Cross.

When you read this remarkable statement you instinctively wonder if this is meant for a joke, or only the feeble pleadings of a small politician, to be continued indefinitely in office now at a time of all times when the people should demand a change.

What a stupendous upheaval of legislative brains it must have taken to evolve this remarkable argument. To what heights of statesmanship does he soar, when he peers into the dark future clouded by war and discovers that he should have an office paying $7,500.00 per year, without even making the race for it, so that he can have more money for the Red Cross.

With what rapture will all the vast brigade of politicians seize upon this gem of statesmanship, discovered by our great Congressman of the 7th Missouri District.

It never seems to occur to our statesman, that after all of these years of drawing a princely salary and distributing "radish seed" to the political gardeners, he should retire and devote his "talents" to the propagating of some of the seed that he has so faithfully distributed for about fourteen years.

The people are thinking of this solution of the question if Mr. Hamlin is not.

The war will end some day and the statesmen of the world will sit around the council table and ask the Kaiser to pay for some of the devilry that he has wrought in Belgium, France, Serbia, Roumania, Italy, Montenegro, Poland and Russia, and expected to work in the United States.

Will a statesman of Mr. Hamlin's type of mind, who made speeches favoring the embargo and opposing the arming of our ships to resist the attacks of the Hun pirates, be the man to help formulate such a treaty? We think not.

Miss Della Connel went to Wichita, Kan., Friday for a visit.

MAC SELLERS MENTIONED FOR VALOR

Refused Medical Aid Until Message Was Delivered in Person.

The St. Louis Globe Democrat of Thursday, June 27, contains an account of four Missouri boys who have been mentioned for valor, west of Chateau Thierry during the Hun drive. One of the boys belongs to us—Lieut. James M. Sellers, son of Col. and Mrs. Sandford Sellers, who was mentioned among the seriously wounded in a dispatch of June 14th.

Lieut. Sellers, the article states, "carried messages between Triangular Farm and Boursches until severely wounded and then refused to accept medical attention until the last message had been delivered in person."

A recent letter from Mac states that he was wounded by shrapnel, and that he was in a hospital at Paris receiving the very best of attention and that his wound was healing rapidly.

Death of Mrs. Kate L. Hale.

Mrs. Kate L. Hale died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Frederick, 805 Gladstone Boulevard, Kansas City, Mo., Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Her death was due to old age and general debility.

Mrs. Hale was born in Bourbon county, Ky., September 23, 1837. She came to Lexington when six years of age. In 1852, she married William Hale, who died in 1903. The survivors are three daughters and three sons, Mrs. John L. Ashurst, Mrs. N. W. Potter, both of this city; Mrs. E. W. Frederick of Kansas City; Frank, J. P., and Thomas Hale of this city.

The funeral services conducted by Rev. Baxter Waters, were held from the home of her son, J. P. Hale, on College street Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

336 Class 1 Men Left.

The local exemption board reports that Lafayette county has 336 men left in Class 1, 271 white and 65 negroes. 102 of these will be called to the colors in July, leaving 215 for subsequent calls. This margin makes it appear unlikely that the young men registered June 5th, will be called on until late in the year.

Metropolitan Does Good Work.

The Metropolitan Insurance Company's force in Lexington has made an excellent showing in the sale of Thrift Stamps and Baby Bonds. Since taking up the work, Mr. Northern reports that they have sold for cash $13,665. During the past week their sales amounted to $6200.00.

Stamp Drive Fell Short.

The War Savings Stamp Drive in Lexington Friday evening fell short by $29,000 of our quota of $65,000. Only $36,000 was sold and pledged.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincerest thanks to the Daughters of Pocahontas and the I. O. R. M. and to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement.

F. Bumgarner and Children.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Sanders of Sedalia, arrived Tuesday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Sanders.

Killed by Lightning.

Saturday evening during the storm, Joe Wulfenbarger who lives one mile south of Wellington, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. At the time he was working in his barn which caught fire and was completely destroyed. The small son of Ed Schawberg was with Mr. Wulfenbarger but escaped uninjured. Mr. Wulfenbarger was buried in Lexington.

For More City Revenue.

The city council Saturday night put through a new schedule of license fees for conducting business in Lexington, in order to raise more revenue for city needs. Under the old schedule some were paying a ridiculously low license while others were paying a plenty. The saloons which were paying $600 a year, are getting fewer in number, and from all indications that source of revenue will soon be cut off entirely. The saloon is about through and when that time comes the cost of doing business in Lexington will throw some into a fit if they are the least bit dizzy over this small hike.

Bar Association Reorganized.

The reorganization of the Lafayette County Bar Association was completed Saturday afternoon when the constitution and by-laws, drafted by a committee appointed for that purpose, were adopted.

The following officers were elected: Judge Richard Field, President; Judge S. N. Wilson, Vice-president; D. W. Sherman, Treasurer; U. G. Phetzing, Secretary.

Thursday night in Murrell Auditorium the pupils of Miss Elizabeth Graves gave a recital, the proceeds of which amounted to $53 were given to the Red Cross. The program was fully appreciated by the large crowd present. The honors of the class were won by Knute Weber, who was first, and Eugene Weber, who was second.

Athletics 8: World Nations 4.

The World Nations looked no different than a single tribe Sunday, as the Athletics put them on the hurra to the tune of 8 to 4.

The local draft board met last night and began the reclassification of men who have married since May 18, 1917. All of these men will be put in Class 1, except those who have a dependent child born before June 8, 1918.

ORDER OF CALL

Attention, Mothers!

The weighing and measuring test for children will be carried on in Lexington this week. Stations for this work will be fitted up in Arnold School, Central College, High School and Elks Home. These stations will be open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Friday and Saturday. All parents with children under six years of age are requested to take them to the nearest station at any time on these two days.

Colored children will be weighed and measured in the schools for colored children.

Mrs. F. Lee Wallace, City Chairman of Child Welfare

Lawrence V. Whipple, Jos. D. Genser, George F. Meyer, and Edward C. McVay, all of Higginsville; Homer B. Alumbaugh and Hollis G. Criger of Odessa, have been released by the local draft board to enlist in the navy.

DON'T GET INTO A STEW

—if your idle machinery
—is all shot to pieces with rust and rot;
—don't waste your breath and spoil your temper cursing your luck.
—better sheds—and more of 'em.
—that's what you need.
—carelessness in the care of costly machinery is mighty expensive. Sun, rain and wind will "get" a valuable machine a lot quicker than will legitimate use.
—we have some mighty fine Lumber for sheds—reasonable, too.
—ask our prices.
